IDEMIA Secure Transactions (IST) teams up with DeCard to launch the DeCard Luminaries metal card, a premium product targeting high-value customers in the digital asset space.

DeCard is a next-gen card brand built for seamless stablecoin spending in the real world. Their flagship product, DeCard, makes everyday transactions simple and accessible. DeCard Luminaries builds on this foundation—it is an evolution of DeCard designed for the visionaries of Web3, unlocking exclusive privileges, elevated experiences, and limitless possibilities.

DeCard is powered by DCS and backed by over 50 years of card-issuing heritage, blending trust with Web3 innovation. Evolving from its roots as Diners Club Singapore, DCS is now a next-gen global payments provider, delivering secure, compliant, and innovative solutions.

The new DeCard Luminaries metal card expands DeCard's stablecoin-enabled payment card offerings with a luxury design crafted by IST. Based on IST's Ultimate Metal Art (UMA) model, the card weighs 22 grams—the heaviest in IDEMIA's metal card portfolio. Cardholders can personalize their card with a laser-engraved name, while its matte black finish and gold detailing convey exclusivity tailored to the lifestyle of premium cryptocurrency users.

The DeCard Luminaries metal card carries a USD 388 annual fee and offers a suite of premium benefits, such as higher spending limits, cashback on spending, complimentary airport lounge access, and insurance coverage among other rewards and privileges.

We are thrilled to be the chosen partner for the DeCard Luminaries metal card. This unique card, that combines the prestige of a premium metal design with the ability to use digital assets securely and conveniently, perfectly aligns with the lifestyle and expectations of today's crypto-savvy users.

Romain Zanolo, SVP APAC, Payment Services, IDEMIA Secure Transactions

The DeCard Luminaries metal card represents the next evolution of how stablecoin users spend in the real world. By combining DeCard's seamless stablecoin payment experience with IDEMIA's exceptional metal craftsmanship, we're giving our community a product that is both beautifully designed and built for global everyday use. More than just a payment tool, DeCard

Luminaries reflects a new standard of taste and distinction, where luxury design meets seamless real-world Web3 spending.
