IDEMIA, the global leader in biometric and identity solutions and longtime authorized enrollment provider for TSA PreCheck®, announced today that they are celebrating new milestones of 12 million enrollments and three million renewals processed to date. This comes just 14 weeks after hitting 11 million TSA PreCheck enrollments, indicating a return to travel and a renewed appreciation for the benefits of the TSA PreCheck program.

As TSA's authorized enrollment provider since 2013, 12 million enrollments and three million renewals are incredible milestones. They underscore IDEMIA's commitment to delivering secure, effective and accurate identity solutions. TSA PreCheck is one of the most valuable consumer-based government programs. 12 million enrollments demonstrates how much travelers both trust and rely on the TSA PreCheck airport experience for expedited screening. Last week, TSA announced that not only can renewals be completed entirely online in 5-10 minutes, but when they are, the cost is reduced to only $70 for 5 years, further improving the already great value and customer experience.

TSA uses IDEMIA's digital fingerprint and identity authentication solutions to identify low-risk air travelers based on thorough background checks. Enrolled travelers then enjoy a simplified screening process at airport security checkpoints nationwide.

IDEMIA has more than 450 enrollment centers in airports and communities throughout the United States, offering applicants convenience when it comes to completing the in-person enrollment. These centers provide TSA PreCheck enrollment, and enrollment for other TSA screening programs, including Transportation Worker Identification Credential (TWIC®), Hazardous Materials Endorsement Threat Assessment Program, and Flight Training Security Program (FTSP), which have cumulatively reached six million enrollments to date, under the Universal Enrollment Services Program.
