At the occasion of the launch of the first ever eSIM (embedded SIM) service on the Portuguese market, NOS today introduces with IDEMIA an eSIM subscription management commercial service for the consumer market, based on a physical voucher approach and future evolution towards a digital voucher.

As a major actor in the telecom field, IDEMIA is at the forefront of the digital revolution and is committed to bringing protected and convenient experiences to mobile operator customers. IDEMIA will be providing NOS its eSIM management solutions that will provide instant digital connectivity that allows users to connect any electronic device straight out-of-the-box and link multiple devices to the same mobile subscription. eSIM offers a streamlined user experience when it comes to managing cellular connectivity for Enterprises. According to ABI Research, eSIM-enabled device shipments will grow from 224 million in 2018 to nearly 700 million in 2022.

The technology takes into account:

- A subscription manager (SM-DP+)
- A voucher which contains a QR code to activate the device when the end-user scans it
- Professional services to support the integration with NOS systems
- Support and maintenance for a 3-year period.

IDEMIA is thrilled and honored to have been selected by NOS Comunicações, the number one mobile network operator in Portugal, to provide its latest eSIM management solution. IDEMIA has a worldwide experience and the ability to provide the best technology to ensure a seamless experience for connected consumers thanks to its eSIM solution.

Fabien Jautard, Executive Vice-President for Mobile Operators activities at IDEMIA

NOS is proud to be the first operator in Portugal to offer an eSIM subscription management commercial service. The partnership with IDEMIA, its capabilities to deploy the solution in a short timeframe and its proven experience in eSIM management capabilities, was fundamental to the process.

Daniel Beato, head of B2C Product & Marketing at NOS
