

We are looking for...

Engineering & Production Project Management

Industrial process engineer

- › Analyze work flows within and across all departments to determine how the entire company can work better together.
- › Review KPI monitoring systems and determine ways to improve how they support company operations.
- › Develop an analytical process that underpins business decision-making.
- › Analyze capital expenditures and project designs to help find ways to cut costs.
- › Keep a close eye on all associated costs and deliver a quarterly report on relevant industry trends to the management team.

Quality supervisor engineer

- › Recommend manufacturing or technology aids to boost speed and efficiency.
- › Supervise staff selection, procedures, training and development.
- › Assess production process issues and recommend improvements.
- › Supervise product testing to ensure proper procedures.
- › Assist in developing and implementing quality assurance programs to meet production standards and customer requirements.

Mentoring

- › You will be assigned a ONE buddy under the same graduate career path so as to share work experiences and best practice.
- › You will be assigned with your ONE buddy a ONE mentor who will support you throughout your two-year program and will help you build a network of company contacts..

IDEMIA > Institute

IDEMIA trains its people to enhance their skills and competencies in line with individual and business priorities in:

- › Paris
- › Dubai
- › Singapore
- › Colombia
- › USA
- › Online

You will be given project management training at IDEMIA Institute.

How to apply?

Send us your resume
We welcome creativity in how the resume is formatted

Include your Motivation

Send your application to:

graduateprogram@idemia.com

Conditions: Being graduated since 2 years maximum